

SECTION III: Decoding and Word Recognition

Quick Quiz 8 Answers • Chapter 7: Irregular Word Reading, pp. 241–258

1. What is an irregular word?
 - a. A regular word that acts as a function word in a compound sentence
 - b. A word that contains one or more sound/spellings that a student doesn't know (page 242)
 - c. A wholly decodable, high-frequency word that has to be memorized
2. Why is it more difficult for students to learn irregular words than regular words?
 - a. Students cannot always sound out irregular words. (page 242)
 - b. Students do not see many irregular words in printed texts.
 - c. Students have to identify the onset and rime in irregular words.
3. Which words are likely to be temporarily irregular?
 - a. two and was
 - b. from and have
 - c. might and little (page 243)
4. Which words are likely to be permanently irregular?
 - a. more and see
 - b. first and which
 - c. put and of (page 243)
5. All of the following are high-frequency irregular words except which one?
 - a. were
 - b. will (page 243)
 - c. who
6. Which factor affects how difficult it is to learn an irregular word?
 - a. The number of consonant phonemes in the word
 - b. Where the vowel letters appear in the word
 - c. Whether or not the word is in the student's oral vocabulary (page 246)
7. Which irregular word is likely to be the most difficult to learn?
 - a. fuel
 - b. off
 - c. though (page 246)
8. Which group of irregular words should be introduced together?
 - a. could, would, should (page 247)
 - b. another, around, also
 - c. they, their, this
9. What is a recommended guideline for teaching irregular words?
 - a. Introduce high-frequency words after low-frequency words.
 - b. Provide a daily cumulative review of previously taught words. (page 251)
 - c. Introduce new words after reading connected text.
10. How many times do good readers in first grade need to practice reading an irregular high-frequency word before they can identify it automatically?
 - a. Only one time
 - b. At least four times (page 246)
 - c. More than ten times